

BOOM

A JOURNAL OF CALIFORNIA

VOLUME 3 | NUMBER 3 | FALL 2013

THE LA AQUEDUCT AT 100:
ENVIRONMENT, CULTURE, HISTORY,
POLITICS, AND THE FUTURE

Contributors iii

From the Editor's Desktop v

The Boom List | Boom Staff

What to do, see, hear, and read this fall in California i

Forget it, Jake | William Deverell and Tom Sitton

Searching for the truth in Chinatown 3

Villain and Visionary | Eve Bachrach

Why we can't agree on William Mulholland 8

How It Works | Chris Plakos

The Los Angeles Aqueduct ii

Opening Up the Archives | Sara V. Torres

A new digital platform for LA Aqueduct history 14

All Along the Aqueduct | Chad Ress 22

There it is. Take it. | David L. Ulin

Mulholland gave LA water and a motto to live by 28

Camera Obscura | William Fox

A photographic history of the LA Aqueduct 38

Owens Valley and the Aqueduct | Kim Stringfellow 50

The Boom Interview | Ron Nichols

Water and power 60

Learning from the LA Aqueduct | Michael Hiltzik

It's getting harder to sell the future in California 68

Mono Craters and June Lake | Valerie P. Cohen

Excerpts from A Summer Journal 78

Owens Valley and the Public Trust | Graham Chisholm

Remaking a place for nature 82

The Myth of a Desert Metropolis | Glen M. MacDonald

Los Angeles was not built in a desert,
but are we making it one? 86

Pivot: Reconceiving Water Scarcity as Design
Opportunity | Hadley and Peter Arnold

Mapping a more absorbent landscape 95

For a New California Water Atlas | Chacha Sikes

A twenty-first-century manifesto 102

How We Learned to Love Los Angeles | Bob and Rob Sipchen

But not stop worrying 110

A Road Trip Along the Aqueduct in 1915 | Annie Powers

From the Huntington Library archives 115