

BOOM

A JOURNAL OF CALIFORNIA

VOLUME 5 | NUMBER 3 | FALL 2015

A CABINET OF WONDERS

Contributors iii

From the Editor's Desktop v

The Boom List | Boom Staff

A short list of essential new science books for fall and winter reading 1

What Color is My City? | Adam Rogers

Night lights are changing L.A.'s complexion 4

Global Science | Jonathan Foley

In California museum collections 12

Return of the Wild | Emma Marris

The wolves at our door 24

The Boom Interview | Peter Kareiva

A conservation scientist at home in a megacity 32

The Importance of Small Change | Katie Langin

On beaks and biodiversity on island California 42

Science and the Art of Abstraction | Hiroko Yoshimoto

A critical appreciation by Ursula K. Heise 46

Seeing Evolution | Yan Linhart

And preserving possibilities for change 56

Under the Desert Sun | Bruce Barcott

Photographs by Jamey Stillings 60

It Takes a Phase Transition | Jennifer Ouellette

How to change minds 76

Science on the Small Screen | Jacob Ward

Behind the news on Al Jazeera America 81

You Are Where You Are From | Robin Mejia

Can we change that? 86

On PCR, LSD, and Science as a Wild Ride | Ryan Bradley

A critical appreciation 90

The Origins of Big Science | Michael Hiltzik

And what comes next 98

