

BOOM

A JOURNAL OF CALIFORNIA

VOLUME 4 | NUMBER 3 | FALL 2014

THINKING WITH NATURE A CENTURY BEYOND JOHN MUIR

Contributors iii

From the Editor's Desktop v

The Boom List | Boom Staff

What to do, see, and read this fall in California i

Futures Past | Erin Beller, Ruth Askevold, and Robin Grossinger

Exploring California landscapes with the San Francisco Estuary Institute 4

Twenty-First-Century Sublime | Amy Scott

Nature and culture entangled 28

"Some Version of the Same River" | Troy Jollimore

Rephotographing Ishi with Byron Wolfe 36

Stop Hunting Ishi | William Bauer 46

Lighting Cultural Fires | Mary Ellen Hannibal

Let it burn 51

John Muir | Glen M. MacDonald

A century on 60

The End of Camping | Terence Young

Coming home to the city 70

The Boom Interview | Carolyn Finney and Rue Mapp
Outdoor Afro 76

Paradise Transplanted | Pierrette Hondagneu-Sotelo
Paradise lost? 86

Nature's Haunted House | D.J. Waldie
Photographs by Luke Jaffar 95

Island Time | Peter S. Alagona
On the stories we tell about nature and history 103

On Observation | Rafe Sagarin
Notes from a field course on the California coast 113

Looking for Nature in LA | Lila Higgins and Emily Hartop
The view from the Natural History Museum of Los Angeles County 122

Field of Genes | H. Bradley Shaffer
A conservation genomicist looks at nature 129

From Los Vallecitos to Lost Valley | Jared Dahl Aldern
Transformation and resurrection in grizzly country 134