

NEW

FROM UC PRESS

CONSTANCE M. LEWALLEN

500 Capp Street

DAVID IRELAND'S HOUSE

"A detailed, generously illustrated guide to this 'cabinet of wonders.'"

—SFAQ

"[David Ireland was] a conceptual artist whose quiet embrace of life-as-art made him a beloved guru in the Bay Area and a highly admired freethinker in international art circles."

—Los Angeles Times

500 Capp Street tells the story of David Ireland's house, a rundown Victorian in the Mission District of San Francisco that the artist transformed into an environmental artwork, taking the detritus of his restoration labors as well as objects left behind by previous owners and refashioning them into sculptures. With an introduction by Jock Reynolds chronicling the social scene that developed around 500 Capp Street in the 1980s, the book also includes a 1983 article on the house by renowned poet John Ashbery. Illustrated with a generous selection of photographs taken over the years by the artist and his many visitors, 500 Capp Street is essential reading for anyone interested in the artistic and cultural history of the San Francisco Bay Area and the California conceptual art movement.

120 pages, 36 color and 43 b/w illustrations
Hardcover, 6 x 8, $29.95

LEARN MORE

www.ucpress.edu/go/art

JOIN US ON TWITTER: @EDUCATEDARTS

UNIVERSITY of CALIFORNIA PRESS

Advancing Knowledge
Driving Change

BOOM

A JOURNAL OF CALIFORNIA

ART, PHOTOGRAPHY AND THE LAY OF THE LAND

BOOM

VOLUME 5 | NUMBER 2

SUMMER 2015

IN THIS ISSUE Earthquakes as art | The body as landscape | Lauren Bon and the Metabolic Studio's devices of wonder | Susan Straight's Santa Ana | Matt Black on the Central Valley's long dry season | Richard White on reading the history of the land in photographs | Lost African-American landscapes of California | Art above the tree line | Photography on edge | And much more VOLUME 5 | NUMBER 2 | SUMMER 2015